Plesiosaurus Hunting
Pictures Teach History
$2,445 Too Much—Just
Yet
Idleness Eating Its Head
By Arthur Brisbane

The Buenos Aires Zoological Society has actually sent an expedition to hunt for the plesiosaurus, huge creature supposed to have survived from ancient times in Patagonia.

The big animal may be anywhere from thirty to sixty feet long, something like a snake and something like a bird. It will be hunted with dynamite and elephant guns.

It is moderately safe to predict that he will not be found. It does not seem probable that creatures that could have lived on this earth millions of years ago could breathe the changed atmosphere of today.

When the plesiosaurus was alive no human being existed. A thousand of our primitive ancestors, if they had existed, would have been helpless against it. Now a boy of twelve could blow its small head to pieces with a charge of buckshot.

Professors of Yale, through the University Press, are preparing to teach history with moving pictures. That this would happen was predicted by this writer many years ago, when the moving picture was housed in vacant lots or little halls, and people wondered "how long it would last."

It's a long jump from cuneiform inscription, or hieroglyphics, to the moving picture that could tell you all of Egypt's history, word, knowing, in an hour, and tell it so that you would remember it.

The moving picture, attached today as the printing press was attacked when it was new, is destined to be the greatest of all teachers, all civilizations.

It is said by workers that $2,445 per year is the lowest sum in which a man can live decently, supporting a wife and three children under fourteen years old.

Professor Hellman, of Chicago, says that the amount required cannot be supplied now because the total output of the United States is not enough to pay that amount per year to everybody.

However, what is true this year may not be true fifty years hence. Not long ago a President of the United States complained that you couldn't hire good workmen for less than $100 a year. Times change rapidly.

The wealth of the United States is what it is because of the savings power of the average. As you increase the average daily wage you increase wealth, increase the nation's supply of money, and the possible amount that can be earned.

In China, John D. Rockefeller, Jr., saw men and women carrying brick and sand up the mountain side on their backs and started of a law that forbade carrying such freight by rail for fear the workers would lose their only way of earning a living.

If you suggested a dollar a day for wages in China they would think you crazy.

More than $2,445 may be the average earnings of a man with wife and children, to support some day. How soon depends upon the intelligence of those who control industry and finance.

Those that control should bear in mind that the more the little man gets, the more the big man makes. There was no fortune of a thousand millions in the United States when men worked for less than one hundred dollars a year.

Various newspapers day after day print news of the lesson learned by what the Congress of the United States does. It says the world. Read it every day and you will find before you every serious reformer who is working to bring the five million men out of work in the United States.

It is a curious thing that in a republic widespread, representing a national loss in labor of more than twice the cost of government, should arouse no particular interest.

If a farmer had five horses eating their heads off, doing no work, he would know that he was losing money. The nation has five million men doing their heads off, doing no work.

In Ontario, Canada, you must manufacture liquor. You must tell it to the United States. Proceedings in court show how Canadian authorities collect duty of $13.50 a case on the whiskey as it is shipped into the country.

Apparently Canada knows that the United States is watching bootleggers, shipments of whiskey, etc. Possibly arrangement could be made by which this country would pay the duty on the $13.50 a case, and Canada would help the United States to catch bootleggers. Good the country with whiskey.

Mayor James M. Curley is out to "brush" the rumor that the Irish is "cold" and standoffish. He is going to extend the "glad hand" to every man and woman who registers at a Boston hotel from out of town just to show that the city has a warm heart.

Worcester, March 25.—A amazing drug scandal involving a score of Worcester women, some said to be prominent, was revealed with the arrest of Miss Annie Royce, a young and attractive trained nurse.

The liner left New York yesterday with a large passenger list, bound for Ponta Del Garda, Azores and Lisbon.

Under instructions, she proceeded to New Bedford, where she took 280 more passengers for Lisbon aboard. It was after she left New Bedford that she ran aground. Her position is not certain, and officials here say she probably will be floated with the next high tide.

Formal handsomely arranged notes of welcome signed by Mayor Curley will be awaiting all visitors to the city. They will read: "To The Stranger: Within Our Gates, Welcome! This year, 1922, finds Boston starting on her second century as an incorporated city. On behalf of our citizens I extend you a cordial and welcome. In order that your stay may be agreeable I invite you to make free use of the Boston Commercial and Industrial Bureau, City Hall, directly connected with the Mayor's office."

Desperate for morphine and other narcotics, the women resorted to the selling power of the street. It was learned, plaintiff with Royce, to use her professional wiles to physicians to obtain the "dope."

FACTS, FADS AND FASHIONS OF BOSTON'S STAGE AND ELSEWHERE

MAIN ATTRACTIONS of "Main Street," the delightful satire now current at the Wilbur Theatre. Whether you've read Sinclair's book or not, you will find yourself boundlessly amused by the play and delighted by the charming interpretations of McKay Morris and Alma Tall, pictured above.

"MARY YOUNG" Is a Name to Conjure With! She is an institution at the Arlington Theatre, the home of the good old Craig Players. Greater Boston playgoers of every walk of life will be pleased to welcome her back. She comes to the Arlington April 3 in "We Girls."

A GIRL FROM THE VILLAGE or "Tis Folly to Be Wise!" Helen La Sore, engagingly posed in an old Spanish shawl, is one of those curers for weak eyes that the Greenwich Village Follies specialists in. If you don't like pretty girls, good dancing, bright lines and smart costumes, please don't go to the Shubert Theatre.

TAKING STOCK! Francesca Rotoli (right in circle), charming member of the Somerville Players. Just because you don't live in Somerville is no reason why you should deny yourself a good play by this talented organization.

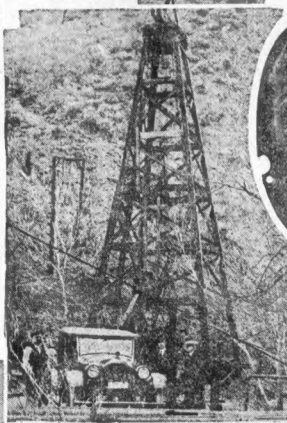

IF MARK TWAIN WAS ALIVE today he probably would revise his famous slice of humor to read: "I would rather see Ann Pennington's legs without anything on, than Gen. Pershing with all his medals on." Anyway, she's at the Colonial with George White's "Scandals." You'd be surprised!

A DASHING MERMAID! Ethelinda Bleibrey, after smashing her own world's record for the 50-yard dash (open water) at Coss Sole, Panama Canal Zone, is out to erase more water records up North. (Wide World.)

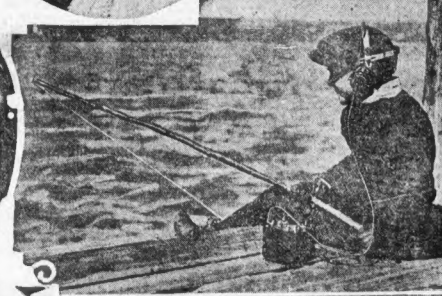

"KICKING HER IN THE FACE!" This fed from Paris dates back to early Egypt. They are called "shoes of hate" and the counterpart of a rival or enemy is worn in the heel. (International.)

WELL, WELL, What Do You Think of This? The first oil well in California, sunk in 1865 at the head of Pico Canyon, is still producing three barrels of oil daily. Some of the wells, however, turned out to be awful oil cans. (International.)

MISS FLORENCE E. ALLEN, judge of the Common Pleas Court, Cleveland, O., whose recent decision in a law case has won the praise of legal authorities.

IF THE POOR FISH WON'T BITE WHY JUST FISH FOR A LITTLE NEWS! Every fishing kit to be up-to-date should contain a little radiophone receiving set to keep in touch with the rest of the world. Little Johnny Dunn says it's a great idea. No loneliness fishing with radio, he says. (International.)

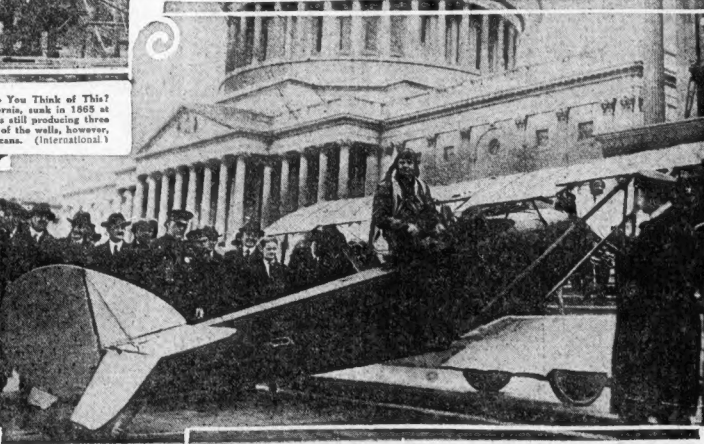

WHETHER THEY LIKE IT OR NOT, These Weather Forecasters Live in These Curious Buildings! The meteorological tower is situated on a little hill just outside of Berlin, Germany. The only house this couple, but they contain extensive scientific apparatus. Despite its old-fashioned appearance, the bureau is said to be one of the most up-to-date in the world.

A FAIRY TOLD HIM SO! Bedin's famous dancer, Ernest Matvey, in the fantastic pose and costume in which he appears at the Berliner Wintergarten. He calls this a "Dance Fairyale." (International.)

STILL GOING AFTER STILL! Rev. M. M. Day, retired Methodist pastor of West Virginia, now a prohibition agent, who takes a gun along with his Bible when he makes raids.

ON THE WINGS OF TIME! The first human being whose history records as having actually risked his own life in demonstrating his theories of aviation was Francesco Vercelli, who, in 1817, made a descent from a high tower in Venice, supported by a primitive parachute consisting of a square framework covered with canvas. Compare this with the tiny, perfect piece of air mechanism shown above, flown by Lawrence Sperry onto the Capitol Plaza, Washington. It is one of the smallest planes ever taken into the air. Observe the small wing span, a primary factor in the "lifting" power of the craft. (International.)

Business Grows

The motor truck business is one of the surest indicators of general business conditions, as trucks are always a business investment and bought as carefully as a new building is put up or new plant equipment installed.

This spring has opened more favorably than in any of the last two years, according to Colonel T. C. Baker, manager of the Automobile Sales & Service Co., the local factory branch of the Autocar Co.

Not only are orders delivered behind, but daily orders come in to the Autocar branch, and the market is assured transportation. Autocar business has grown so much during the last eight months that it has been necessary to secure an additional building at No. 718 Commonwealth avenue.

This accommodation adds 12,000 feet of floor to the 48,000 that they had previously devoted to the marketing of the thousands of Autocars in the metropolitan Boston district.

KNIGHT SIX GAINS IN POPULARITY IN U. S.

"Few people realize that the R. & V. Knight Six is the only six-cylinder, Knight mounted car in the United States," said James Hough, local R. & V. manager. The popularity of the Knight Six is shown by the fact that it is the only six-cylinder car in the United States to have been sold in every State.

The R. & V. Knight Six proved its merit at once, and you will find it in every State. As the only Knight Six in America, it has a place as a distinct specialty. It is duplicated in no car in this country, and European States represent prices three times as great as the R. & V.

The public has hardly learned the advantages of the Knight motor, but we find that most motorists are very much interested in our explanation of the functioning of the above type of engine.

SALE OF DODGE
HIGH MARK

New England Distributor
Sends Unlimited Order to Factory

So pronounced was the impetus given the sale of Dodge Brothers cars during the recent Boston automobile show that C. B. Hendrich has sent orders to the factory in Detroit to ship cars to Boston without limit.

This is perhaps the most remarkable evidence of the satisfactory motor car business situation locally that has come to light.

The Hendrich Company was selling large numbers of cars previous to the show. During the exhibition, however, sales of Dodge Brothers cars were the greatest ever made by the Boston distributor.

Mr. Hendrich is exceedingly well satisfied with the results of the show, and he believes that the Dodge Brothers cars will exceed both in number and in volume of money represented, than any other exhibitor showing a car of the Dodge Brothers price or higher.

He also showed the activity the salesmen on Commonwealth avenue, where the Dodge Brothers cars were on display, and the fact that the cars were sold in the weeks preceding the show.

BOYS GIVEN REAL PRACTICE TRYOUT ON HOME GROUNDS

BOYS GIVEN REAL PRACTICE TRYOUT ON HOME GROUNDS

Coach Henrich picked two teams from the Boston College squad and held the first outdoor practice game yesterday at Alumni Park.

Neither team represented the first or second team which will stand throughout the season, it being the coach's intention to match the teams as equally possible for the sake of seeing the players perform in an actual contest.

Although the field was soggy and unfitted for a real game, it was greatly demonstrated by the players that the Boston College will be very sent by a fast, surefielding, heavy hitting line this season.

All the boys brought their batting suits into the game, and their hitting was not in any reflection on the ability of the pitchers.

Jim Kelley, and after a first inning uneventful, settled down to a contest between the two teams. He worked well, and looks good to be one of the hitters' dependables on the pitching staff.

Henrich put a youngster in the place of Foley behind the plate to see how he would do. He was a good player, but his work yesterday was not as good as that of the regular catcher.

The second team battery consisted of Vargas and Phillips, who were a southwinds with plenty of zip. His first throw was very good, and he was a good player.

On the field there was enough material for two first class teams. First class was taken over alternately by Captain "Jack" Halligan and Gus Whalen. Both are exceptional good players, and Henrich will be able to rely on them.

At second base, David and Cody were a good pair. David was a good player, and Cody was a good player.

CARDS HAVE CHANCE OF WINNING ROUND OF NORTH AND SOUTH GOLF TOURNEY

CARDS HAVE CHANCE OF WINNING ROUND OF NORTH AND SOUTH GOLF TOURNEY

Orange, Tex., March 25.—There's a combined air of confidence and determination around the Cardinal camp here that bodes ill to the other baseball clubs that have decided to visit the National League pennant this year.

They've made up their minds, Branch Rickey and his gang, that Saint Louis has suffered long enough to deserve at least one position, and it's going to take more than the usual resistance to knock aside the swimmer from across the Mississippi.

The gladsome clank of the ball and the resounding thud of the bat are the only sounds that are heard in the air of this town today. The Cardinals are hunting the ball every morning and every afternoon, until even the players holler for help.

And when a diamond here has enough hitting, he has to be ready. They'd rather crack the onion around rather than, and there's no better safe and sure way in the universe.

Rickey, easily the most picturesque individual of the baseball world, has a good reason for his faith in the Cardinals. He believes that they're the finest club in the country, and it will take a whole lot of pitching in chase that belief into the shadows.

Remember the Cards last season. For more than three months they were the only club in the league that had not lost a game. They had won every game of the season, and they were the only club in the league that had not lost a game.

But along early in August, there came a change. The Cardinals were defeated by the Pirates, and they were the only club in the league that had not lost a game.

Our New Reduced Prices

are creating wonderful sales. Our product will prove our claim of Most Exceptional Values

Conditions have made prices for Knight cars which have fully met. But we make our product to meet the wants and needs of the buyer according to our own ideas alone.

Prices are Temporary—Good Will built on a Good Product is everlasting

We believe broader knowledge and wider distribution of our cars will in time enable us to be as independent of the influence of the action of others in the making of fair prices for our cars, as we are today in determining the character and quality of our product.

Today's conditions create the BUYER'S OPPORTUNITY
